

Executive Summary of Minor Research Project

on

“A Case Study Of Rural Economical And Political Development Through Gram Panchayat In Gondia District”

Principal Investigator : Dr. S. I. Mahajan, Associate Professor and Head, Post Graduate
Department of Political Science, N. M. D. College, Gondia(M.S.)

CHAPTER-1: Introduction

In this chapter, there is introduction of subject and also book review of past study and research work, importance and necessity of present study, aim of study, research methods, important issues, description of responder and introduction of research area (Gondia) and includes chapterisation.

CHAPTER-2: Rural Development : Concepts

It is related to rural development concepts. It comprise meaning of development, different concepts of rural development, views of Gandhi's related to rural development, rural development v/s urbanization, necessity of rural development, stages of development, rural development in independent India and different obstacles of rural development.

CHAPTER-3: Development Of Panchayat Raj In India

It includes different stages of development of Panchayat Raj in India. It covers historical background, views of Gandhi's –“GramSwaraj”, role of GramPanchayat in independent India, different committees and their reports, 73 amendments, Maharashtra Panchayati Raj Act, 1994 and description of organized structure of Panchayati Raj system.

CHAPTER-4: Political Awareness In Rural Area through Gram Panchayat (By Survey)

It covers political awareness in rural area through Gram Panchayat. It includes awareness, political awareness, introduction of public and public representative, public and public representative and their political awareness. It depends on information and interview of public and public representatives.

CHAPTER-5: Rural Economical Development Through Gram Panchayat (By Survey)

In this chapter we get rural different economical problems like illiteracy , lack of training, power and rights, co-operation and co-ordination, resources, fundamental services, irregular Gram Panchayat office, improper meeting, mission of Gram Sampark in views of rural public. This information gets through by survey and interview of Sarpanch, Deputy Sarpanch, Officers and Rural Public.

CHAPTER-6: Rural Development In Rural Area Through Gram Panchayat

By interview of public and public representative we conclude information of rural development and current policies.

CHAPTER-7 : Conclusion

It concludes all the chapter and also covers problems and their suggestions.

Problems

1. Lack of active and effective public participation in the working of Gram Panchayat.
2. There is no proper publicity of Government Schemes.
3. Rural development scheme is not properly and timely implemented and financial assistance is not adequately and timely provided by the government.

Suggestions

1. To appoint technical and other workers properly.
2. Leaders should create a healthy atmosphere where the public can freely discuss their problems.
3. There should be compulsory training of representative, officers and servants of Panchayat Raj institution at a proper interval.

Principal Investigator

(Dr. S. S. Mahajan)

Co-investigator

(Shri Ravi B. Rahangdale)

(Registrar/Principal)

Natwarlal Maniklal Datal
College of Arts & Commerce
GONDIA DIST. Gondia (M. S.)